

Verizon states that a portion of the 45 cents for information will be donated to help someone to read but I have been to the web site and phoned corporate headquarters and they will not tell the actual percentage of the money or how much has been donated to date or where it has gone.